

AWAKENARTS

— When Language Shapes a Path —

The Encounter Journal

Susan Ann Shepler

I begin.

Journey

Stepping beyond the familiar opens the way to new discoveries.
Every journey is an invitation.

JOURNAL REFLECTION

Has any part of your life become too familiar?

Where would you like to see changes in your life now?

Are you ready to begin?

I encounter.

The Deep

Some of life's most important discoveries are made within.
Our inner world quietly shapes the way we experience everyday life.

JOURNAL REFLECTION

Consider how your inner life is influencing your life experiences.

What would you like to understand more clearly?

Are you ready to go deeper?

I receive.

The Table

Some moments invite us to stop striving and simply receive.
What we need most is often waiting for us.

JOURNAL REFLECTION

Can you imagine a place being prepared for you?

What kind of place do you imagine it to be?

Are you ready to receive?

I listen.

The Word

Some words become trusted companions throughout life.
The Word is such a companion.

JOURNAL REFLECTION

How has the Word been a companion in your life?

How would you like the Word to guide you today?

Are you ready to follow?

Every new day is a new beginning.
There is always more to learn, more ways to grow, and more to discover.

JOURNAL REFLECTION

What have you learned that can strengthen your journey?

What do you hope for in your future?

Are you ready to continue?

Thank you for taking this journey.

The five Encounters are only the beginning. The journey continues throughout the AwakenArts Collection, where images, poems, symbols, and figure editions invite further reflection and discovery.

If these pages have been meaningful to you, you are warmly invited to continue the journey at
